Somerset Total Communication is a very useful tool for supporting pupil communication and it also fits well with Talk for Writing. After our school received STC training we noted that pupil speaking and listening skills were improved.

We have our own STC Co-ordinator which means she can lead training for staff and parents and just knowing we have support of the STC core team behind us is great. It is so easy to feel isolated, especially in rural schools. I always know where I can find help and advice when I need it. The Co-ordinator meetings highlight the fact that we are doing this as a team in Somerset.

The STC Newsletter is another way of keeping us in touch with what is going on between meetings.
